

Conversations with All That Is

The Path of Intuition

Your Guidebook
for Life's Journey

Anne Salisbury, PhD
Greg Meyerhoff

Foreword by C. Norman Shealy, MD, PhD
founding President, American Holistic Medical Association

What Is Intuition?

---

Intuition is both the tube and the light of information that flows through the tube from Source to feed you.

---

Question: What is intuition?

Intuition is your access to information that is available from Source, or God the ultimate creator in your universe. It is your direct connection to a stream of answers that are available to you when you ask. Think of it as a type of tube or beam or column of light that descends into your world and connects you to Source. This so-called tube brings you a “cloud” or stream of information that you can translate into meanings for you. When you ask a question, it goes up your tube of light to your higher self, your full self, and then to Source, and the answer is returned to you through that same tube. The goal is to ask questions, listen, and wait for the response.

---

Your intuition feeds you all the information you need to maintain your world.

---

Intuition is both the tube and the light of information that flows through the tube from Source to feed you. More specifically, your life force energy and intuition come down the tube as a stream of light particles that fill you as the receptacle, or receiving device. Your connection to Source, as well as your ability to maintain that connection, is a part of your system. You maintain this activity, or flow, through the love you have for yourself. As long as you love yourself and maintain your vehicle, or body, you will have an experience of being God in the physical realm.

---

Experiencing yourself as God, a creator, is your purpose for being here.

---

Your experience of being God, creator in your realm, is allowed and maintained through your connection to Source. Intuition issues meaning to life and holds for you the original idea of who you are. You gain purpose through understanding who you are, and that definition is given to you by your intuition when you ask.

Experiencing yourself as God, a creator, is your purpose for being here. By being the creator in your reality, you expand and grow. Because you are only partially present in this reality, or dimension, your ability to communicate with your full self and Source is paramount for your survival and maintenance in this world. This is why intuition is so important. It connects you to Source. It allows you to communicate from your limited incarnated physical self through your higher self to your full self and Source. Your higher self is that part of you that is partially incarnated, whereas your full self is all of who you are.

Your intuition feeds you all the information you need to maintain your world. All answers are given to your questions. Nothing is held back unless it is inappropriate for you to know it at that time. The meaning you ascribe to the answers may be pure or may be polluted depending upon the filters or beliefs with which you translate the information.

The difficulty comes when you doubt your world and yourself as God, creator in your realm. This reduces your access to intuition. When you love and appreciate yourself less, there is less love in the universe to hold you. You must personally love yourself to bring forward the love of the universe that supports and holds you in place in your world. This love you have for yourself creates the space for you to create.

The tube retracts slightly when you distrust yourself, and the degree to which it retracts depends upon how many times you have distrusted yourself. In order for information to come through the tube, it must be connected to Source.

You must remember that you are God. Then access your tube of light, which holds within it your intuition, to maintain your world and create your desires. It is up to you, as the God of your realm, to make these choices to do these things.

You are beings of light. Source feeds light to you. You are always connected to Source as an individual experience of Source, or God, while you are in this reality. If a disconnection is made, either through your choice or some surprise happening, then your light is extinguished at that location in the fabric of love and your tube is instantly withdrawn. That terminates your present experience.

Question: Why do we need intuition?

Your being—your experience of life on this planet—requires connection to the Source of All That Is in order to survive. The mechanism of intuition feeds you with all you need to know. This energy pattern that descends from Source allows you to be in this universe you call “life” and create however you please.

Your intuition is available to help you move ahead. It reminds you that you are God, creator in your realm. It accesses Source and brings forth light, which has within it life force energy and intuition, so that you may create. It is the homing device that ultimately leads you home to Source.

---

The goal is to ask questions, listen, and wait for the response.

---